Profile:

I am a dependable professional team member who you can count on to take care of tasks without being asked. I love working with athletes of all ages and abilities. I have been working with high school aged athletes almost primarily for the past ten years, although I do have experience with other age and ability groups ranging from middle school to collegiate and semi-professional. I have supervised both graduate and undergraduate students from Indiana State University's Athletic Training Education Program. I enjoy sailing, hiking, and carpentry. I am an Eagle Scout and continue to live by those principals. I show respect and compassion for everyone, and actively listen to my patients even when they are not injured.

Employment:
